The Mama Juggs Show – Benefit Performances for Cornucopia Cancer Support Center

Award-winning actress, writer, producer, improv performer Anita Woodley is giving a benefit performance of her one-woman show, Black, Blue & Pink Cancer State Tour of The Mama Juggs Show. All proceeds will help Cornucopia Cancer Support Center provide support and resources to anyone journeying with cancer.

Written as a promise to her mother – who died of breast cancer before 50 – it seeks to challenge cultural taboos and stereotypes surrounding breast health and body image. By raising both money and social consciousness, it's designed to contribute to the winnable campaign against breast cancer.

Performances are at the Health Touch Community Center, 3500 Westgate Drive, Durham, NC 27707: Saturday, June 22, 8 pm and Sunday, June 23, 3 pm.

Seating is limited to 20 per performance.

Cornucopia marks its 18th year providing supportive resources and care for anyone journeying with cancer – those in treatment, survivors, family members and caregivers – through complementary therapies, movement classes, individual and group support, expressive arts, information and resources, all in a non-clinical setting. Information is available online at www.cancersupport4u.org or by calling 919/401-9333.
