

CORNUCOP^{IA}

cancer support center

December 2018

Dear Friends of Cornucopia:

People say, "Cornucopia saved my life." And, they make special requests for visits from Cornucopia in their final days of life. It's what we do. It's what we have been called to do. Inform. Comfort. Heal.

"It is beyond me to express my awe and gratitude for the services which had such a role in restoring my sense of wholeness and worth. I borrowed books, tried yoga, and experienced a writing class. The touch practitioners conveyed such validation and compassion that I still connect my health to the energy they helped me rally, not only by their skillful practice but by their discerning presence! Regrettably, I can't make large contributions of time, influence, or wealth, but I do honor what you do and can witness that you hold many hands and offer more than a vacant smile as we who are affected by cancer walk in dark and scary places."

from cancer survivor, B.J.

Cornucopia knows and understands what cancer patients must endure. Since 1995 we have helped thousands of persons-- from all walks of life-- and with over 50 different types of cancer. We've helped with emotional support, palliative care, and informational programs. We offer home based services to people who can't come to Cornucopia because of their condition or lack of transportation.

Cornucopia is here for you or anyone touched by cancer. And, we depend upon donations and volunteers to keep our programs going. PLEASE INVEST IN OUR WORK TODAY. Your donation will provide a family touched by cancer with meals for two months, gas cards to get to and from treatment, respite care for caregivers, a counseling appointment and/or an oncology massage therapy appointment - and much more.

You can help us inform, comfort and heal the minds, bodies and spirits of people affected by cancer. Cornucopia's future and ability to help anyone touched by cancer depends upon you and the support of our entire community. We need your help, so that we're here if your friends or loved ones ever need us.

Please invest in our mission and work by making a donation today. Best wishes for a happy holiday season and new year.

Gratefully,
